The FCCLA Dynamic Leadership program helps young people build leadership skills. It provides information, activities, and project ideas to help young people:

- learn about leadership
- recognize the lifelong benefits of leadership skills
- practice leadership skills through FCCLA involvement
- become strong leaders for families, careers, and communities

Dynamic Leadership Units

Dynamic leaders master six (6) units of leadership—

Model good character
Solve problems
Foster positive relationships
Manage conflict
Build teams
Educate peers

These leadership units are sparked by studies in Family and Consumer Sciences education. They are ignited by experience with hands-on FCCLA projects and leadership roles. They are fueled by continued growth and learning to fan a lifelong flame of Dynamic Leadership.

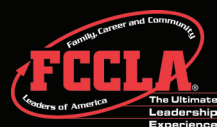

Early experiences with the essentials of Dynamic Leadership build the fire for a lifetime of strong leadership in families, careers, and communities.

Awards

FCCLA recognizes students at the Leadership Achievement level for completing a Leadership Achievement project in all six (6) essential units of Dynamic Leadership. National recognition can also be earned at the Leadership Excellence level for completing a Leadership Excellence project in all six (6) essential units of Dynamic Leadership.

Deadline: Dynamic Leadership Portfolios due to FCCLA national headquarters postmarked by April 1.

Recognition for involvement with Dynamic Leadership is also managed by the local chapter adviser.
